
Nicholas Tibor Longford

Nicholas Tibor Longford, Ph.D.

Company Director at SNTL Statistics Research and Consulting, London, United Kingdom

Expertise and focus:	Statistics and computing; applications in healthcare, clinical medicine (neonatal, paediatric in particular), epidemiology and government statistics. Causal analysis, missing data and small-area estimation.
Form of mentoring meetings:	Online
Has an experience in:	Academic career, Career in the public sector, Starting my own company, startup
	Link to CV CV

Previous mentoring experience:	14 PhD. students with completed dissertations; one PhD. student with dissertation in revision. Mentor to junior staff in the U.S.A. (Educational Testing Service), UK (De Montfort University, University College London), Spain (Universitat Pompeu Fabra). Mentor in international programmes, with one mentee each in Sudan, Colombia and Indonesia.
Motivation:	I maintain a keen interest in widening my skills, expertise and experiences and sharing them as a partisan for socially responsible scientific activity.
Career guidance topics you can discuss with the mentor:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifying and utilizing one's skill set• Differences between academic and non-academic careers• Advice and assistance with scientific/academic activities, including planning, execution, problem solving, manuscript preparation.
Research related experience the mentor is ready to share with the mentee:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Preparation of scientific publications - how to do it correctly, efficiently, and with quality• Grant writing process, grant application consultation• Consultation on required competencies for the private sector• Management of science and research in an academic institution• Path to an academic position abroad• Transition from academia to the private sector