
Webinar for Applicants – First Call

28 March 2025

On 27 March, we held a Webinar for applicants for the first call of the CHARLESTON programme. The session attracted 94 participants, who received key information about the programme, including its eligibility criteria, supervisors, and funding coverage. We also guided applicants through the application and selection processes, as well as the expected start of funded projects.

The presentation from the webinar is available here .
